It's holding up a sign in public with words on it you don't like. That's protected by the First Amendment of the U.S. Constitution. Please. In the last year I've seen enough of your hate and your obscenities that come from your individual musings and random comments online to realize that you have been indoctrinated by the left. It is literally your only source of information. If you're looking for a place that tolerates silliness, move to the local playground, the fridge, or church. The rest of us do it without the threat of the local government or the iron fist of the left. There is a difference between free speech and hate speech. Please stop trying to make the rest of us the problem and start working on yourself. So, going to be a little cranky. For more than five minutes. Thank you, Rome[oldembed src="" width="425" height="300" resize="1" fid="21"] This isn't exactly breaking news, but the amazingly petty union force at Nike has decided to attack the beloved and cancer-fighting athlete Lance Armstrong for being a bit of a dou
